Teaching and Learning

The Internet is now regarded as an essential resource to support teaching and learning. Computer skills are vital to accessing life-long learning and employment.

Internet use should be carefully planned and targeted within a regulated and managed environment to show the children the benefits of accessing information from around the world to enhance their learning.

The purpose of Internet use in the setting is to enrich our children's learning experiences and to enable them to learn about how to interact with technology in a safe and educational way. The Internet helps to support the professional work of staff and enhance the school's management of information and business administration.

Internet services will be provided by BT.

Why internet use is important

The Internet is an essential element in 21st century life for education, business and social interaction. HETTY has a duty to provide students with quality Internet access as part of their learning experience. Internet use is a part of the EYFS and statutory curriculum and a necessary tool for staff and pupils.

How Internet use benefits education

- Access to world wide educational resources including museums and galleries.
- Access to experts in many fields for pupils and staff.
- Collaboration across support services and professional associations.
- Exchange of curriculum and administrative data with the Local Authority.

Hoole Enterprise Trust – Time for You (HETTY)

Internet use will enhance learning

- The Internet access will be designed expressly for pupil use and will include filtering managed by BT appropriate to the age of pupils.
- Pupils will be taught what Internet use is acceptable and what is not and given clear objectives for Internet use and associated technologies so they understand the dangers and can make informed decisions both in and out of school.
- Pupils will be educated in the effective use of the Internet in research, including the skills of knowledge location, retrieval and evaluation.
- Internet access will be planned to enrich and extend learning activities across the curriculum.

Pupils will be taught how to evaluate Internet content

- Pupils will be taught to be critically aware of the materials they read and shown how to validate information before accepting its accuracy.
- Pupils will be taught how to search safely and effectively online using child friendly search engines such as www.safesearchkids.com or <https://swiggle.org.uk>
- As the children reach upper KS2, as part of their school curriculum they will be taught of the potential dangers of using other search engines e.g. www.google.co.uk, how to ensure that they access suitable materials, and what to do if they find something inappropriate. At HETTY google use is always supervised.
- Pupils will be taught the procedure of what to do if links to inappropriate web content occurs. Pupils should part-close the lid of their laptop/ turn iPad over, then tell the staff member/supervisor, who will record the URL address, time, date and content. This must be reported to Dan Woolley from Seven 11 Systems. Printed signs are available for the children to see, this reminds them what to do if they see anything they think may be inappropriate.

Staff will send out information to parents/carers regarding safe internet use for children which contains details of the following:

- Parent's or Carer's permission will be obtained for all images taken.
- In HETTY pre-school video footage may be recorded of the children engaging in learning opportunities in order to evidence learning and development milestones on Evidence Me.
- In wraparound care, Video footage will not be taken of the children unless for a specific learning opportunity or event, in which case a member of staff will take it officially and parents written permission will be obtained prior to footage being filmed.
